

WORKFORCE SYSTEM RESULTS

For the Quarter ending September 30, 2012 | First Quarter, Program Year 2012 | Fourth Quarter, Fiscal Year 2012

EMPLOYMENT AND TRAINING ADMINISTRATION
UNITED STATES DEPARTMENT OF LABOR

The Employment and Training Administration (ETA) provides this overview of performance results for the 12-month period ending September 30, 2012. The programs highlighted reinforce ETA's commitment to good jobs for everyone—helping people find good jobs and connecting employers to qualified workers. This commitment supports the Department of Labor's strategic goals of preparing workers for good jobs and ensuring fair compensation, safe and healthy workplaces, health benefits and high quality work-life environments; and providing income security for those not working as well as fostering fair working conditions in the global marketplace.

In the four quarters ending September 30, 2012, ETA programs served over 32.8 million people. This is a reduction of slightly under 4 million in the past four quarters with the majority reflected in the Unemployment Insurance program where new claims have dropped by 1.8 million. Although this is good news, the overall high level of participants in all programs reflects a continued need for temporary income support, training and employment services, including job search assistance.

The spotlight in this edition features the 75th Anniversary of the National Apprenticeship Act, signed into law in 1937 years ago by President Franklin D. Roosevelt. The Registered Apprenticeship program provides America's workforce with structured on-the-job learning in traditional industries such as construction and manufacturing as well as new and emerging industries such as healthcare, information technology, energy and telecommunications.

Other highlights to note in this report are: 1) Registered Apprenticeship completers Six Months Average Earnings were $30,407, almost $7,000 more than the average earnings of those participants who did not complete the program; 2) the Trade Adjustment Assistance program saw an increase of 10 percent in its Entered Employment Rate over the same period last year; and 3) the number of Initial Unemployment Payments dropped by 1 million from last year.

In general, this overview presents program outcomes and results for the most recent four quarters compared to the same four quarters in the prior year. Although many programs report common performance measures outcomes, several programs have specific performance measures. A glossary of performance measures, included in this overview, provides the performance measure definitions for each program. Common performance measures, applicable to many of ETA's programs, focus on obtaining employment, retaining employment, earnings in a six-month period, and acquiring industry recognized credentials to ensure that the nation's youth, adults, and dislocated workers have the skills necessary to succeed in a global environment.

QUARTERLY SPOTLIGHT: 75TH ANNIVERSARY OF THE NATIONAL APPRENTICESHIP ACT

U.S. DEPARTMENT OF LABOR

★ OUTEDUCATE
OUTBUILD★
★ OUTINNOVATE
CELEBRATING 75 YEARS OF THE
NATIONAL APPRENTICESHIP ACT

75 years ago, President Franklin D. Roosevelt signed into law the National Apprenticeship Act. The signing of the Act, also known as the Fitzgerald Act in honor of its author, Congressman William J. Fitzgerald (CT), set in motion an opportunity that 75 years later, has offered millions of U.S. workers the chance to use this “earn while you learn” strategy to prepare for careers in industries that have helped drive the American economy and supported countless American families in their efforts reach the middle class and live the American Dream.

Of the Act, Congressman Fitzgerald is on record as saying, “Mr. Speaker, this bill sets up in the Department of Labor an apprentice training system for the youth of this country....This bill will provide a cloak of protection to put around boys and girls and encourage them to go back into the skilled trades, and in some localities today we have a crying need for trained and skilled workers.”

Fitzgerald’s words still ring true today as shortages of skilled workers continue to exist in many parts of this country. The National Apprenticeship system trained approximately 400,000 American workers last year due to the dedication among U.S. employers, industry associations and labor-management organizations that ensure we have the best trained, most highly skilled workforce in the world.

On Wednesday August 1, 2012, then Secretary of Labor Hilda L. Solis celebrated the 75th anniversary of the National Apprenticeship Act with a National Education and Action Summit entitled, “Out-Educate Out-Build Out-Innovate.”

The summit featured apprenticeship leaders and stakeholders from throughout the country and showcased recently selected “Innovators and Trailblazers” Registered Apprenticeship programs that embody the innovation and commitment still on display today in the 21st century.

Today's Registered Apprenticeship thrives in traditional industries such as Construction and Manufacturing, and is also expanding in growing industries, including healthcare, childcare, transportation, renewable energy, and even our Armed Forces.

Registered Apprenticeship is working with post-secondary institutions across the nation to ensure apprentices are able to earn college credits as they progress through an apprenticeship. These efforts increase the earnings-value and long-term career security of an apprentice, leading to the opportunity for a degree while establishing high-level skills that keep America's workforce competitive. Program completers' average hourly wage is $25, and their average yearly salary is over $50,000.

At a time when employers increasingly indicate there is a growing mismatch between the demands of the jobs created and the skills of the available workers, Registered Apprenticeship collaboratively develops customized training plans that result in industry issued, nationally recognized credentials that create secure pathways to the middle-class and sustainable careers for its participants. According to the Bureau of Labor Statistics (BLS) employment projections for 2010-2020, occupations that typically incorporate apprenticeships are projected to grow by 22.5 percent, significantly faster than any other category of On-the-Job Training (See <http://www.bls.gov/news.release/ecopro.nr0.htm>).

Registered Apprenticeship is one of the best federal workforce investments according to a recently released study. The study, An Effectiveness Assessment and Cost-Benefit Analysis of Registered Apprenticeship in 10 States, by Mathematica Policy and Research (MPR) found that participants who completed a registered apprenticeship program had average earnings gains of nearly a quarter million dollars ($240,037, increasing to $301,533 when employer benefits are added) compared to nonparticipants over a career of 36 years. Furthermore, the estimated social benefits of registered apprenticeship exceed the social costs by nearly $50,000 (See http://wdr.doleta.gov/research/FullText_Documents/ETAOP_2012_10.pdf).

The Out-Educate, Out-Build, Out-Innovate Summit was an important opportunity to recognize the history of Registered Apprenticeship over the past 75 years, and importantly, to focus on the role it will play in training U.S. workers in the 21st century. Based on the evidence described above, it's clear U.S. businesses still believe the "earn while you learn" model is as effective today as it was 75 years ago.

PEOPLE SERVED BY PROGRAM

In the 12 month period ending September 30, 2012, ETA programs served over 32.8 million people. The Wagner-Peyser Employment Service (ES) and Unemployment Insurance (UI) served 69.9 percent of this total, and 71 percent of those receiving Unemployment Insurance also received Wagner-Peyser funded Employment Services. ETA's other programs provided more comprehensive services to over 9.8 million people.*

* Due to the lack of available current data, the total people served through the Wagner-Peyser Employment Service for the cumulative four quarters ending September 30, 2012 is based on the people served in the cumulative four quarters ending June 30, 2012.

GOVERNMENT PERFORMANCE AND RESULTS ACT GOALS (GPRA)

<http://www.doleta.gov/performance/goals/gpra.cfm>

On January 4, 2011, President Obama signed H.R. 2142, the “GPRA Modernization Act of 2010”, which became Public Law 111-352. The new law required Federal agencies to set clear performance goals that can be accurately measured and publicly reported in a more transparent way. The following table contains performance indicators, arrayed by program, which represent the key results that ETA programs work to achieve. Performance goals for the employment and training programs listed are established in the budget process. The goals are set at the higher end to be “ambitious” within the context of prior performance. Since the program performance goals are nationwide goals, they may not apply in every instance to individual States or grantees where different economic or other circumstances may demand an adjustment in performance expectations.

The following table reflects PY 2012 (July 1, 2012 - June 30, 2013) goals for most programs and FY 2012 (October 1, 2011 - September 30, 2012) goals for Foreign Labor Certification, Unemployment Insurance, Trade Adjustment Assistance, and Registered Apprenticeship Programs. Cost per Participant is not displayed because it is an annual measure.

INDIAN AND NATIVE AMERICAN ADULT PROGRAM (INAP)

<http://www.doleta.gov/dinap/>

Program Description

The Indian and Native American Program (INAP) provides employment and training grants to Indian Tribes, nonprofit tribal organizations, Alaska Native entities, and Native Hawaiian organizations with comprehensive employment and training services designed to increase the ability of program participants to compete in the new global economy and promote the economic and social development of Indian, Alaska Native, and Native Hawaiian communities.

Quarter Highlights

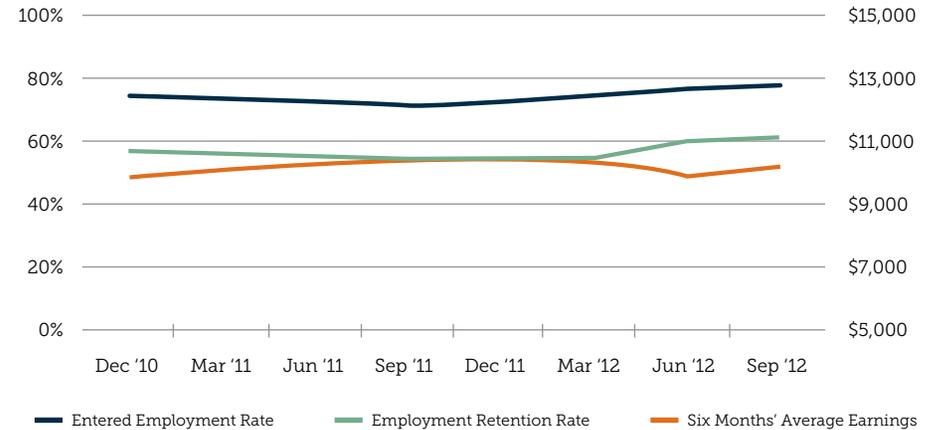

Through the Workforce Investment Act, Section 166, Adult program, a young couple obtained non-subsidized employment. The American Indian Council (AIC), in North Kansas, Missouri, assisted the two customers by providing financial assistance for them to attend Lead Abatement Worker training provided by the Occupational Safety and Health Administration (OSHA), which included Construction and Scissor Lift safety training. During their training, they also participated in work experience with a community project and they both received OSHA certification. Following this, Osage Consulting, Inc. hired the couple and AIC provided them financial assistance for required equipment and clothing support. The couple's first assignment is a lead abatement project on the Haskell Indian Nations University campus in Lawrence, Kansas. They are also participating in a prevailing wage program with the employer. The assistance provided to the couple was possible because of the local networking of resources, including the AIC.

NATIONAL FARMWORKER JOBS PROGRAM (NFJP)

<http://www.doleta.gov/msfw>

Program Description

The National Farmworker Jobs Program (NFJP) assists migrants, other seasonally employed farmworkers, and their families in achieving economic self-sufficiency and stability through job training and other services that address their employment related needs. New job skills training in occupations with higher wages are offered, as well as supportive services that help farmworkers stabilize their employment in agriculture. Assistance from the NFJP is accessed directly through the grantee organizations and local American Job Centers, formerly known as One-Stop Career Centers.

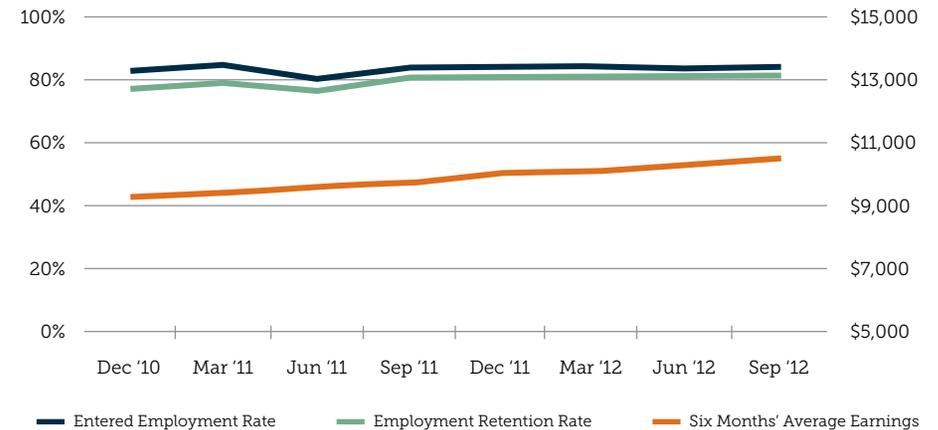

Quarter Highlights

Jose L. Perez Robles was born in Guanajuato, Mexico, and moved with his family to the United States as a young child in 1987. Jose dropped out of high school to work in the fields with his family. Even though he worked long hours, he managed to study enough to obtain his GED. For a long time, he struggled doing minimum wage seasonal work and realized there had to be a better way to find a job. After finding the NFJP program in Selma, California, operated by Proteus, Jose was enrolled in the Solar Photovoltaic Training. He graduated at the top of the class and went to work as a Solar Installation Supervisor. Jose has continued to advance in his career and now earns $40,000 a year.

SENIOR COMMUNITY SERVICE EMPLOYMENT PROGRAM (SCSEP)

<http://www.doleta.gov/seniors>

Program Description

Authorized by the Older Americans Act of 1965, the Senior Community Service Employment Program (SCSEP) is designed to foster individual economic self-sufficiency and promote useful opportunities in community service employment for unemployed low-income persons (particularly persons who have poor employment prospects) who are age 55 or older, and to increase the number of persons who may benefit from unsubsidized employment in the public and private sectors.

Quarter Highlights

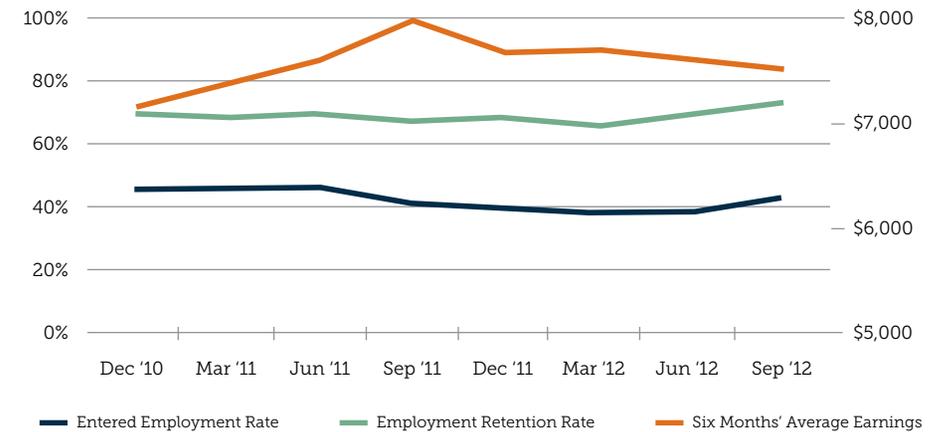

A SCSEP participant from Brattleboro, Vermont, discussed their success with the program in the following story:

“I found out about the SCSEP job training and employment program administered by Associates for Training and Development. This program helped me find a position in a field available in my area and tailored a training program to make me an attractive candidate for the position we had jointly chosen. The program also found a ‘host site’ for me and placed me there to work in the field I had chosen in order to get hands-on training. They also paid me while I trained; and they provided continuing education to help me develop resumes, cover letters, interviewing, computer and writing skills necessary for most positions being offered in today’s employment market. All of this helped me become better at securing a position of employment on my own in my new field.”

Program Performance

Performance Measure	Four Quarters Ending 09.30.11	Four Quarters Ending 09.30.12

- The Employment Retention Rate of 72.8 percent exceeded the PY 2012 target by 2.7 percentage points.
- The Entered Employment Rate of 43.1 percent missed the PY 2012 target by 5.5 percentage points.
- The Six Months' Average Earnings of $7,511 missed its target of $7,975 by $464.

WORKFORCE INVESTMENT ACT ADULT PROGRAM

http://www.doleta.gov/programs/general_info.cfm

Program Description

The Workforce Investment Act (WIA) Adult Program helps prepare low-skill adult workers for good jobs through formula grants to States. States use the funds to provide employment and training services through a network of American Job Centers, of which there were about 2,717 across the United States at the time this report was written.

WIA provides employment and training services at three broad service levels to job seeker customers: core, intensive and training. These services are provided at a level which most efficiently meets their needs to achieve gainful employment. The program is also designed to assist employer customers meet their needs for skilled workers.

Adult Programs serve the broadest range of individuals, including but not limited to public assistance recipients, Unemployment Insurance claimants, Veterans, people with disabilities, dislocated workers, migrant and seasonal farmworkers, Indian and Native Americans, and workers age 55 or older.

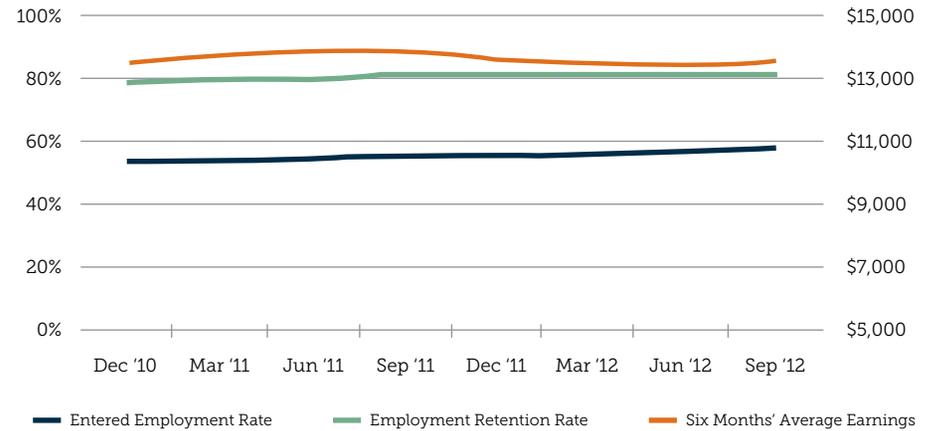

Quarter Highlights

To increase Texas' Coastal Bend Workforce Investment Area's workers' soft skills, Coastal Bend's Workforce Solutions, part of the American Job Center network, partnered with Del Mar College to develop a soft skills curriculum. WORKFORCE INVESTMENT ACT DISLOCATED WORKER PROGRAM

http://www.doleta.gov/programs/general_info.cfm

Program Description

The Workforce Investment Act Dislocated Worker Program funds services to support the reemployment of laid-off workers. The Department of Labor allocates 80 percent of funds by formula to the States. States in turn, allocate the funds to their local workforce investment areas. Additionally, the Secretary of Labor may use the remaining 20 percent for National Emergency Grants—these specially targeted funds can infuse resources to areas suffering most from plant closings, mass layoffs, or job losses due to natural disasters or military base realignment and closures.

Quarter Highlights

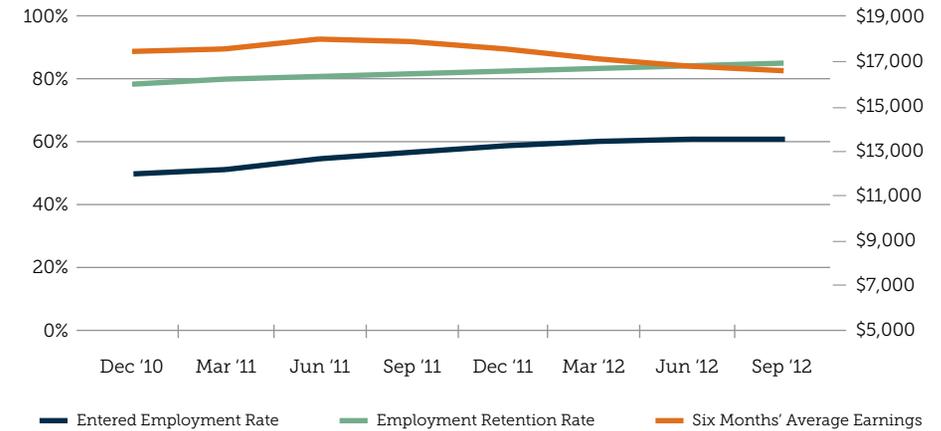

Nathaniel Lawrence, Jr. had been laid off and decided to pursue his career interest in heating, ventilation, and air conditioning (HVAC) and building maintenance, but he lacked the certifications and formal training that employers were seeking. His WIA Case Manager, in coordination with other American Job Center staff members, enrolled him in an HVAC Career Starter training program at the College of Southern Maryland. After completing his training and earning a chlorofluorocarbon (CFC) certification, Mr. Lawrence continued his job search with assistance from his WIA case manager. By using the full range of services available through the American Job Center, Mr. Lawrence was able to secure a well-paying position, with an apartment, as a maintenance technician.

NATIONAL EMERGENCY GRANTS (NEG)

<http://www.doleta.gov/neg>

Program Description

National Emergency Grants (NEGs) are discretionary awards intended to temporarily expand service capacity at the State and local levels by providing funding assistance in response to significant economic events. Significant events are those that create a sudden need for assistance that cannot reasonably be expected to be accommodated within the ongoing operations of the Workforce Investment Act Dislocated Worker Formula Program.

Significant dislocation events include: business closures, mass layoffs, realignment and closure of military installations, and disasters declared eligible for public assistance by the Federal Emergency Management Agency.

Quarter Highlights

Ohio was approved for up to $21,438,000 in NEG funds to create about 1,191 temporary jobs to assist with clean-up and recovery efforts in the wake of severe storms and winds that impacted 37 counties throughout the State.

Louisiana was approved for up to $2,000,000 in NEG funds to assist about 450 workers affected by the closure of the General Motors (GM) assembly plant in Shreveport. The funds will provide assistance to the workers in conjunction with the services they will receive from Trade Adjustment Assistance.

Mississippi was approved for up to $3,000,000 in NEG funds to create about 300 temporary jobs and Louisiana was approved for up to $3,358,017 in NEG funds to create about 450 temporary jobs for clean-up and recovery efforts in the wake of Hurricane Isaac, which resulted in widespread storm damage across both states.

H-1B AND PERMANENT FOREIGN LABOR CERTIFICATION (PERM)

<http://www.foreignlaborcert.doleta.gov>

Program Description

H-1B certification permits employers to hire, on a temporary basis, foreign workers who possess qualifying professional or specialty skills. The PERM program allows employers to begin the process for permanently hiring a foreign worker when there are not sufficient numbers of U.S. workers who are able, willing, qualified, and available to perform the job. In addition, the program ensures that the employment of the foreign worker does not adversely affect the wages and working conditions of American workers who are similarly employed.

Quarter Highlights

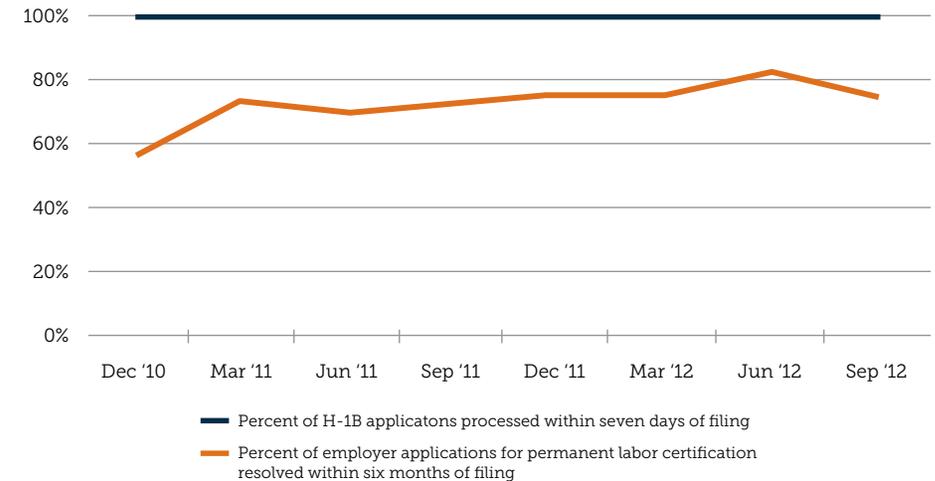

The Office of Foreign Labor Certification (OFLC) increased program integrity by conducting more audit examinations and supervised recruitments in the PERM program and was able to maintain the timely processing of 76 percent of applications processed in FY 2012.

Employer filings under the H-1B program increased 11 percent from FY 2011 to FY 2012 as the economic recovery continued.

- The percentage of PERM applications resolved in six months increased by 3 percent from the same four quarter reporting period one year ago. Of the 57,598 PERM applications processed over the past four quarters, 43,657 were processed within six months of the filing date.

H-2A AND H-2B FOREIGN LABOR CERTIFICATION PROGRAMS

<http://www.foreignlaborcert.doleta.gov>

Program Description

H-2A labor certification permits employers to hire foreign workers on a temporary basis for the agricultural sector of the economy. H-2B labor certification permits employers to hire foreign workers to come to the United States and perform temporary nonagricultural work, which must be one-time, seasonal, peak load, or intermittent in nature.

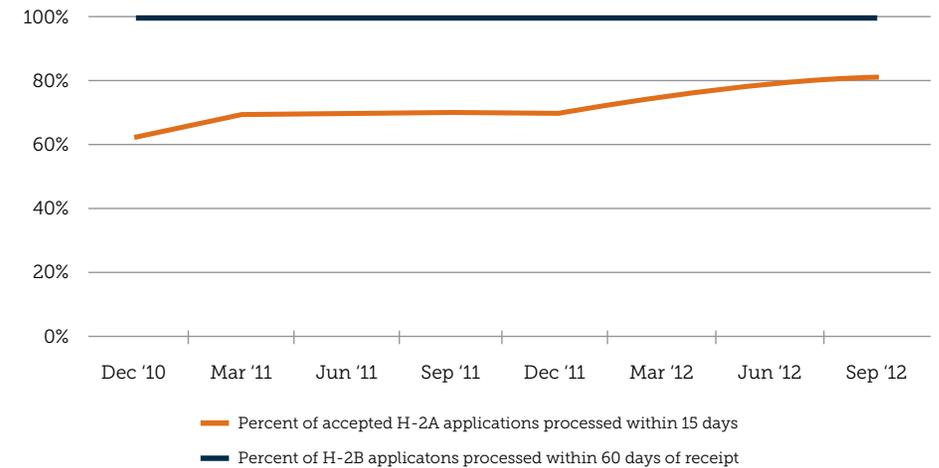

Quarter Highlights

The Office of Foreign Labor Certification (OFLC) continues to process approximately 81 percent of all H-2A applications on time and the percent of employer applications requiring a deficiency notice has dropped to 35 percent in FY 2012; compared to 66 percent in FY 2011.

- The percentage of H-2B applications processed within 60 calendar days continued at 100 percent, the same as the reporting period one year ago. Of the 4,211 H-2B applications processed within the last four quarters, 4,207 of them were processed within 60 calendar days of the filing date.

REINTEGRATION OF EX-OFFENDERS (RExO-ADULT)

http://www.doleta.gov/RExO/eta_default.cfm

Program Description

The Reintegration of Ex-Offenders – Adult Program (RExO-Adult) is an employment-centered program that seeks to strengthen urban communities that have large numbers of returning prisoners. The program incorporates mentoring, job training, and other comprehensive transitional services. It is designed to reduce recidivism by helping inmates find work when they return to their communities, as part of an effort to improve community life.

Quarter Highlights

Opportunities Industrialization Center (OIC) of Broward County in Fort Lauderdale, FL, has been a RExO-Adult grantee since the first generation of grants in 2006. They shared the following success story in the first quarter of PY 2012:

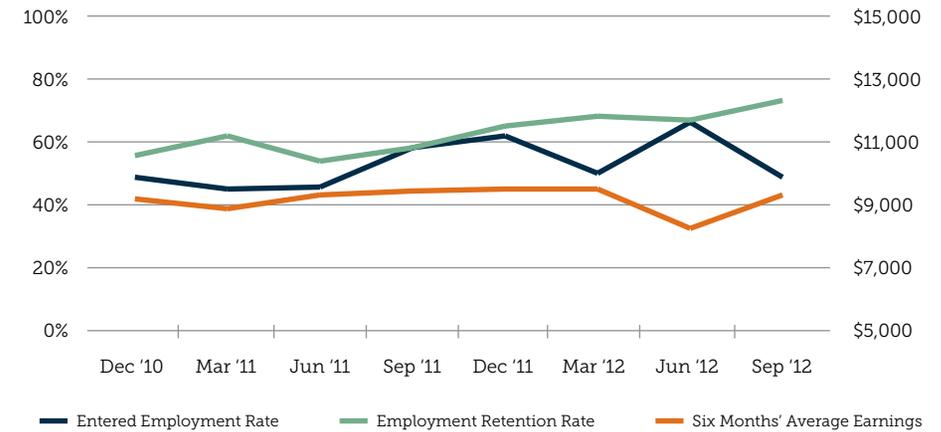

Leon, 55 years old, served several years in Federal prison. Coming out of incarceration with a several year gap in employment history severely limited his opportunities. He successfully completed the program's employability skills training and gained basic computer skills, as well as receiving one-on-one and group mentoring and participating in mock interviewing and resume workshops. Upon completion of the program, Leon was able to successfully secure full-time employment as a property manager earning $15 an hour.

Six Months' Average Earnings	$9,466	$9,782	$9,325

*Program-to-date data is as of program inception in Spring 2006.

Performance in the Past Eight Quarters

Analysis

- 1,897 participants were served in this quarter, 167 less than in the previous quarter. This decrease reflects the fact that the fourth generation of grants are beginning to slow down enrollments and services as they enter the final year of program activity to ensure they are able to have a full nine months of follow-up with current participants.
- 4,810 participants have received certificates program-to-date and 89 have obtained a high school diploma or GED.
- The RExO-Adult program continues to perform strongly in meeting the GPRAs goals. As of the end of Quarter 1 of Program Year (PY) 2012, the program is meeting the recidivism goal and is close to meeting two of the other three GPRAs goals.
- While the cumulative program-to-date outcomes show overall Six Months' Average Earnings of 9,782 earnings continue to be a struggle for this population. The Six Months' Average Earnings measure has been steadily declining, which may reflect grantees revising their placement strategies in a tight economy to more part-time placements for participants that would result in fewer earnings over the period.

REGISTERED APPRENTICESHIP

<http://www.doleta.gov/oa>

Program Description

Since 1937, Registered Apprenticeship Programs have continued to meet the skilled workforce needs of America's industry by training millions of qualified individuals for lifelong careers. Registered Apprenticeship helps mobilize America's workforce with structured, on-the-job learning in traditional industries such as construction and manufacturing, as well as new emerging industries such as health care, information technology, energy, and telecommunications. Registered Apprenticeship connects job seekers who want to learn new skills with employers looking for qualified workers, resulting in a workforce with industry-driven training and employers with a competitive edge.

Quarter Highlights

The Centers for Disease Control and Prevention (CDC) in Atlanta, Georgia has become a national program sponsor for Registered Apprenticeship in the area of Public Health Informatics. Launched by the CDC in March 2012, the program marks the first time that MD's and PhD's will participate in an innovative Registered Apprenticeship program. The program is designed to serve the training and development needs of members of the CDC's Public Health Informatics Fellowship program and help advance Public Health Informatics as a nationally recognized occupation. The CDC and the Office of Apprenticeship believe that this program will lead to the further development of training of this kind in other healthcare professions.

TRADE ADJUSTMENT ASSISTANCE (TAA)

<http://www.doleta.gov/tradeact/>

Program Description

The Trade Adjustment Assistance (TAA) Program is an integral part of the comprehensive workforce development system. The program is essential to helping workers dislocated by foreign trade to adjust to changing market conditions and shifting skill requirements. Addressing the needs of trade-affected workers involved in this transformation is a unique challenge because, in general, these workers are being dislocated from relatively outdated-skill, high-wage employment. In many cases, this is complicated by mass layoffs or plant closures that occur in single-industry towns, which makes finding comparable employment in the same geographic area difficult. Furthermore, many of these jobs are lost permanently from the domestic economy, requiring affected workers to completely retool their skills.

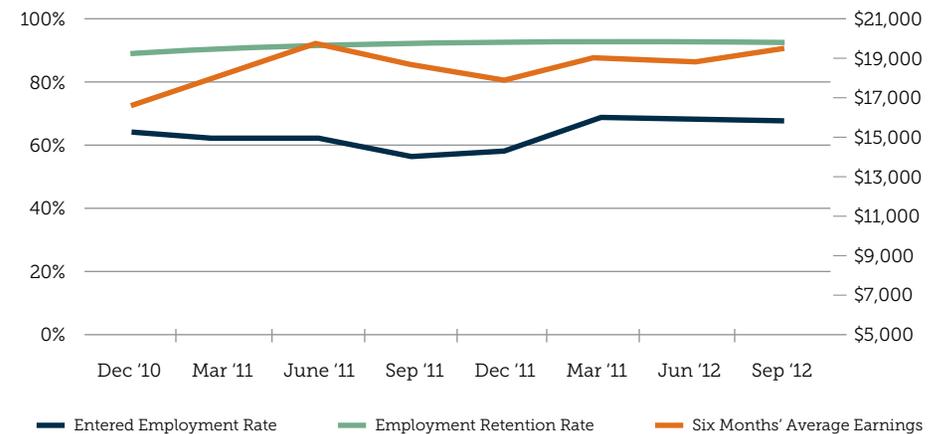

Quarter Highlights

Pennsylvania's Entered Employment Rate for this quarter was one of the highest in the nation at 77.1 percent. This result validates the State's emphasis on training; of all Pennsylvania's TAA program exiters for this period, 97 percent received training, 84 percent completed training, and 100 percent of those who completed training received an industry recognized credential. The Pennsylvania Department of Labor & Industry, Trade Act Services, in collaboration with its Financial Services, Grants Management Services, and Certification/Performance Services units, conducted Webinar information sessions this quarter for training providers and Pennsylvania one-stop staff. The Webinars included review of TAA training programs and activities. The State has seen interest pick up with Trade OJTs and has developed an OJT refresher training to encourage use of Trade OJT.

Performance in the Past Eight Quarters

Analysis

During the four quarters ending September 30, 2012, 131,011 total participants received TAA benefits or services. The Entered Employment Rate was 68.8 percent, almost three percentage points higher than the four quarters ending September 30, 2011. The Employment Retention Rate was 91.0 percent, one percentage point higher than the four quarters ending September 30, 2011. The Six Months' Average Earnings was $18,966, exceeding the amount from the four quarters ending September 30, 2011 by $782.

During the quarter ending September 30, 2012, there were 90,143 total participants receiving any TAA benefits or services and 31,195 participants enrolled in training (35 percent). The Entered Employment Rate was 68 percent, more than 10 percent above the same quarter in 2011. The Employment Retention Rate was 91.2 percent, the highest rate recorded within the past eight quarters. The Six Months' Average Earnings was $19,311, exceeding the annual goal by approximately 6,000 dollars. For those who exited the program during the quarter, 8,874 received training, 6,697 completed training (75 percent), and of those 4,121 earned a credential during training participation (62 percent).

UNEMPLOYMENT INSURANCE (UI)

<http://oui.doleta.gov/unemploy/>

Program Description

The federal-state Unemployment Insurance (UI) System minimizes individual and family financial hardship due to unemployment and stabilizes the economy during economic downturns by providing unemployed workers with temporary income support. States operate their own Unemployment Insurance Programs regulated by State laws.

As the Federal partner, DOL provides program leadership, allocates administrative funds, provides technical assistance, and exercises performance oversight.

Quarter Highlights

During the third quarter, UI workloads lessened as the labor market slowly improved, as shown by the declining initial claims and first payments as well as decreases in the exhaustion rate and average payment duration. About 1.8 million UI claimants were reemployed in the quarter ending June 30, 2012 (latest available data). The number of States with trust fund loans fell from 23 to 20 and outstanding loan amount from about $30 billion to $26 billion. States continued to enroll in the Treasury Offset Program (TOP) to recover UI overpayments by Federal income tax offset. By September 30, 2012, 17 States had recovered about $135 million during the year using TOP.

Analysis

During FY 2012, the UI system attained three of four of its GPRA targets:

- New claims fell by 1.8 million in the last year as well as the number of first Unemployment Insurance payments, which fell by 1 million.
- States detected and established 62.4 percent of potential overpayments, 10 points over the target; a large but unknown proportion of the gain was due to extended benefits overpayments not in the denominator of the Detection of Overpayments ratio and only partially adjusted in the numerator. This issue will be corrected in future quarters as all States begin reporting extended and regular benefit overpayments separately.
- 62.6 percent of UI beneficiaries were reemployed, up about 4.5 points from the year before and above the 56.4 percent target, as the unemployment rate fell and States increased reemployment efforts.

- 88.7 percent of status determinations were timely, over the 86.9 percent target; 33 States improved from FY 2011.
- 82.9 percent of first payments were timely, down from 84.6 percent in FY 2011 and below the 85.7 percent target; 29 States' timeliness declined, four by double digits.

WORKFORCE INVESTMENT ACT YOUTHFUL OFFENDER INITIATIVE

http://www.doleta.gov/Youth_services/youthful_offender.cfm

Program Description

ETA uses its Youthful Offender Appropriation to fund a variety of projects that target youth offenders, young adult offenders, and students in high risk high schools.

Currently, operating projects include: State and local Implementation grants to serve all youth returning from juvenile correctional facilities in Baltimore, MD; San Antonio, TX; Seattle, WA; and Washington, DC; YouthBuild programs serving young offenders in four cities in New Jersey (Atlantic City, Elizabeth, Jersey City, and Passaic); 14 Civic Justice Corps grants to serve juvenile offenders ages 18 and above; the Mentoring, Educational and Employment Strategies (MEES) grants serving students in 13 schools that have been designated as persistently dangerous under the Elementary and Secondary Education Act; and two grants to intermediary organizations to serve juvenile offenders in 10 high-poverty, high-crime communities.

Quarter Highlights

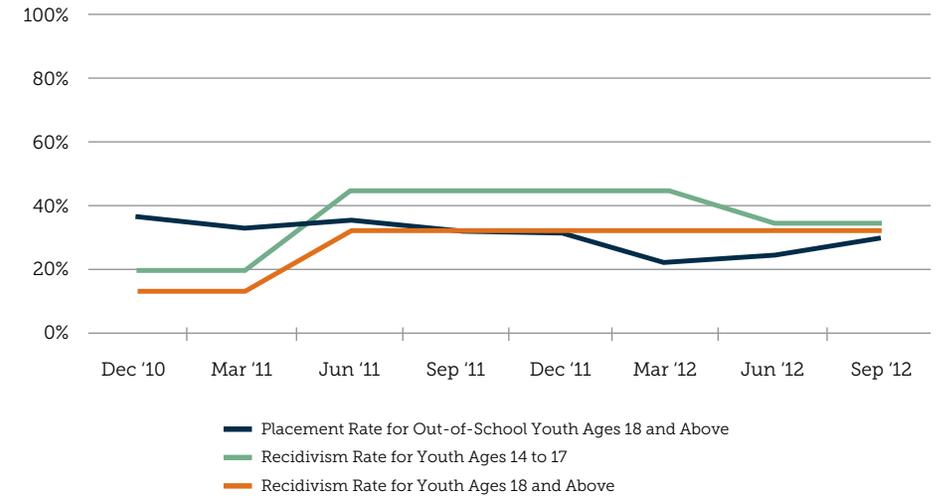

Recently awarded projects in their planning stages include four grants to intermediary organizations to serve juvenile offenders in high-poverty, high-crime communities; two grants to intermediary organizations to serve young adult offenders in high-poverty, high-crime communities; 21 training and service learning grants; and two grants serving female juvenile offenders.

Recidivism Rate for Youth Ages 18 and Above	33.0%	33.5%

*Results are cumulative for currently operating grants.

Performance in the Past Eight Quarters

Analysis

Providing opportunities to youthful offenders results in varying outcomes depending on the mix of projects being operated in a given year. Projects have markedly different placement and recidivism rates depending on whether they are serving young adults in their 20s or youth 18 and 19 years-old; they recruit youth in the community or through direct referrals from the juvenile justice system; the race and ethnicity of their enrollees; and whether they are located in small or large cities.

The following analysis can be gleaned from these projects collectively:

- Since the completion of projects serving young adults, and the start of new projects that serve higher percentages of youth returning from correctional and detention facilities who are referred directly from the juvenile justice system, placement rates have declined over the past two years. However, recidivism rates for youth ages 14-17 have dropped since the same period last year.
- The placement rates also reflect the job market where youth offenders have a more difficult time due to their age, low educational levels, and criminal history.

WORKFORCE INVESTMENT ACT YOUTH PROGRAM

http://www.doleta.gov/youth_services/

Program Description

The Workforce Investment Act Youth Formula Program provides employment and education services to eligible low-income youth, ages 14 to 21, who face barriers to employment. The program serves in-school and out-of-school youth, youth with disabilities and low literacy rates, as well as others who may require additional assistance to complete an educational program and acquire an industry-recognized credential or enter employment.

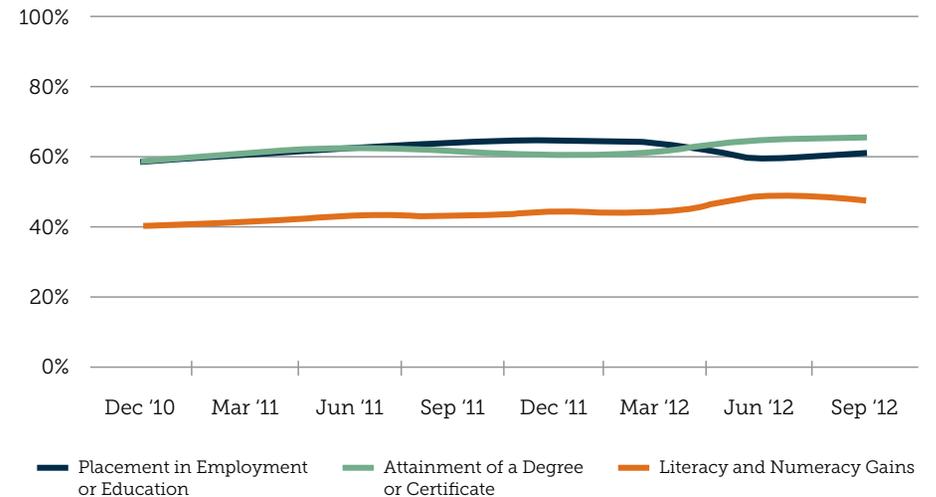

Quarter Highlights

Over the past four years, the WIA Youth Program's Attainment of a Degree or Certificate measure has steadily increased from 57.8 percent in the cumulative four quarter reporting period ending September 30, 2009, to 64.9 percent during the same time period ending September 30, 2012. Los Angeles, Indianapolis, and Clayton County are just a few examples of local areas with programs that effectively help youth attain important credentials in occupations such as health care, information technology, and logistics and supply chain management. Strategies employed by these programs are highlighted in the Department's Credentials for Youth tool, <https://youth.workforce3one.org/page/credentials>.

Literacy and Numeracy Gains	43.2%	46.9%

Performance in the Past Eight Quarters

Analysis

- The Workforce Investment Act Youth Program served 148,748 participants in the current quarter. This is 13,601 fewer participants served, compared to the fourth quarter of PY 2011.
- 226,158 participants were served in the cumulative four quarter reporting period, compared to 247,952 served during the same time period last year. This decrease is due primarily to a lower funding level as compared to the previous year.
- All three common measures are on track to exceed PY 2012 GPRA goals.
- The Placement in Employment or Education measure achieved a result of 60.6 percent, compared to 63.8 percent in the cumulative four quarter reporting period ending in the first quarter of PY 2011.
- The program achieved a result of 64.9 percent for the Attainment of a Degree or Certificate measure, a 2.9 percentage point increase when compared with the same time period last year.
- The Literacy and Numeracy Gains measure increased 3.7 percentage points to 46.9 percent from the same time period last year.

JOB CORPS

<http://www.jobcorps.gov/home.aspx>

In addition to attending workshops, they visited diesel engine and automotive production facilities and an electronics company, as well as sightseeing at the Forbidden City and the Great Wall. Their travels took them to Beijing, Nanjing, Wuxi and Shanghai. International opportunities such as these provide students with unique life-changing experiences in travel, diversity, and exposure to global issues.

In addition, 9,210 students attained a Certificate, which reflects a 3.9 percentage point increase in the Certificate Attainment rate compared to the same quarter in PY 2011.
- Also in this quarter, 6,925 students attained a Literacy/Numeracy Gain, which represents a 2.8 percentage point increase over the same quarter in PY 2011.
- When comparing the four quarters ending September 30 from 2011 to 2012, Placement in Employment or Education increased 1.8 percentage points to 74.0 percent. INDIAN AND NATIVE AMERICAN YOUTH PROGRAM

<http://www.doleta.gov/dinap/>

Program Description

The Indian and Native American Supplemental Youth Services Program provides summer and year-round employment and training activities for Indian, Alaska Native, and Native Hawaiian individuals between the ages of 14 and 21. Program resources are targeted to at-risk and the neediest youth who face substantial barriers to education and employment success. This population includes high school dropouts and youth who are basic-skills deficient.

Quarter Highlights

The Cook Inlet Tribal Council shared the following success story of a youth participating in the program: Nathan Bennett is a current participant in Anchorage Youth Services (AYS) program. He has been utilizing services for 2 years and has been very successful with the opportunities provided. Nathan became first enrolled in AYS in 2011 and was co-enrolled in their YouthBuild project (YB). Through this opportunity he received training in Carpentry, Leadership Development, Soft skills training and assistance applying for secondary education. AYS provided supportive services and case management during this time to help him complete these trainings. Following his graduation from YB, Nathan was assisted by AYS staff in applying for college and then finding employment. He enrolled in the University of Alaska Anchorage (UAA), then was placed in a summer internship opportunity with the Anchorage Parks and Recreation “Youth Employment in the Parks” program rehabilitating local parks in the Municipality of Anchorage. He completed the internship successfully, returning to the UAA for the fall 2012 semester. AYS recently placed him in their Alaska Native Justice Center (ANJC) with a part time supported work experience (SWE) placement to get experience in criminal law/justice, and Nathan is currently working and attending classes simultaneously.

YOUTHBUILD

http://www.doleta.gov/youth_services/youthbuild.cfm

Program Description

YouthBuild provides job training and educational opportunities for at-risk youth ages 16 to 24, while constructing or rehabilitating affordable housing for low-income or homeless families in their own neighborhoods. The youth split their time between the construction site and the classroom, where they earn their GED or high school diploma, learn to be community leaders, and prepare for college and other post-secondary training opportunities. YouthBuild includes significant support systems, such as mentoring, placement in education and employment, personal counseling services, civic engagement, and participation in community service.

Quarter Highlights

YouthCare in Seattle, Washington, has been a YouthBuild program since 2009. In the first quarter of PY 2012, they shared the following success story:

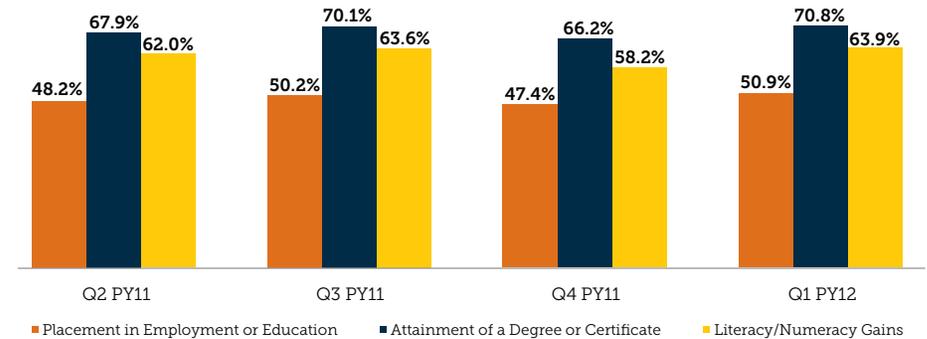

BL, a YouthCare YouthBuild participant, was slated to go to jail before he was able to complete YouthBuild, but at his initial hearing, BL's efforts were recognized by the judge, and his jail time was delayed so that he could complete the YouthBuild program. At his post-exit hearing, the judge waived BL's pending, extensive jail time after hearing he had graduated with honors from the program. His efforts have been recognized by the Board of Directors of Habitat for Humanity of South King County and he is slated to begin full time work in the construction field next month in the Seattle area.

Program Performance

Performance Measure	GPRA	Results for Class of 2009	Results for Class of 2010/2011*	Overall Results
Percent of Participants Entering Employment or Enrolling in Postsecondary Education, the Military, or Advanced Training/Occupational Skills Training in the First Quarter After Exit	50.2%	50.9%	49.1%	48.2%
Percent of Youth Who Attain a Diploma, GED, or Certificate by the End of the Third Quarter after Exit	62.9%	70.8%	45.9%	64.2%
Percent of Participants Deficient in Basic Skills Who Achieve Literacy or Numeracy Gains of One Adult Basic Education Level.	58.8%	63.9%	47.9%	56.5%

*Results for the Class of 2010/2011 are expected to rise as participants complete the program; many are still active as it is very early in the performance cycle.

Class of 2009 Performance in the Past Eight Quarters

Analysis

- 25,086 participants have been enrolled into the YouthBuild program since 2007 and 22,630 have exited so far.
- Since the program began, a total of 8,634 participants have received a high school diploma or GED, 12,366 have attained an industry-recognized certificate, and 16,003 have been placed into initial jobs, post-secondary education and/or long-term vocational/occupational skills training, including apprenticeship.
- Performance for the Class of 2010/2011 has begun to be tracked. While these outcomes are currently below those of the Class of 2009 and the GPRA goals, this is only because the grants are very early on in the performance cycle with most participants still active. This means that they are included in the enrollment numbers, but have not yet achieved program outcomes. These outcomes are expected to rise over the course of PY 2012 as participants complete the program.
- While the overall outcomes for YouthBuild are lagging in two of three GPRA targets, this is due to the inclusion of the 2010/2011 class, as described above.
